

AI 2035: The Legal Profession and the Judiciary in the Age of Artificial Intelligence

AI & Litigation Risk: Causes of Action, Defenses, and Liability in the Evolving Age of AI Reliance

This session examines emerging litigation risks tied to the use and misuse of artificial intelligence, including novel causes of action, evolving defenses, and shifting theories of liability. Attendees will gain practical insight into how courts and regulators are approaching AI-related disputes and how to mitigate risk in an increasingly AI-dependent legal landscape.

Daniel Shulman, Partner, Vedder Price

Daniel Shulman is a shareholder at Vedder Price in the Intellectual Property practice. Dan is a former Chief Intellectual Property Counsel for a major consumer goods company. He focuses on leveraging intellectual property to create competitive advantages for clients. Dan is an experienced litigator and appellate lawyer. He brings both in-house and law firm perspectives to his practice.

Hillard Sterling, Partner, Roetzel & Andress

Hillard Sterling is a commercial litigator and trial lawyer at Roetzel & Andress with more than 30 years of experience. Hillard handles a wide range of disputes, including technology, privacy, intellectual property, and insurance defense matters. He brings a strategic and creative approach to complex litigation. Hillard frequently speaks and writes on technology and cybersecurity issues. He is also a recognized commentator on legal developments.

Elizabeth Winkowski, Partner, Taft

Elizabeth Winkowski is a partner at Taft Stettinius & Hollister LLP. Elizabeth is an experienced litigator in Chicago's Commercial Litigation practice group, focusing her practice on complex civil litigation and matters relating to privacy and technology. She has successfully represented a wide range of clients—from private and public companies to large institutions—at all stages of litigation in both state and federal court.

Moderator: Patricia McCarthy, Attorney at Law

Patty McCarthy is a passionate and accomplished leader with more than 20 years of sales and management experience in the legal industry focused on generating revenue and providing an exceptional customer experience. Her professional path integrates a trifecta of experiences and skills: accounting and business experience, litigation experience, and sales. Patty was most recently a regional sales manager for LexisNexis for more than 20 years.

THE CHICAGO BAR ASSOCIATION PRESENTS:

AI 2035: The Legal Profession and the Law in the Age of Artificial Intelligence

AI & Litigation Risk:

Causes of Actions, Defenses, and Liability
in the Evolving Age of AI Reliance

May 11, 2026 | 10:30 a.m. - 12:00 p.m.

THE
CHICAGO
BAR ASSOCIATION

Timed Agenda

- Introductions & Background (5 mins)
- AI Litigation Landscape (60 mins)
- Impacts of AI on Obtaining Information in Discovery (10 mins)
- What's Next: The Changing Regulatory Landscape (10 mins)
- Questions (5 mins)

AI Litigation Landscape

- Fraud
- Discrimination and Bias
- Personal Injury/Products Liability
- Defamation and Deep Fakes

AI Litigation Landscape (continued)

- Privacy and Breach of Contract
- Chatbots as Wiretaps

AI Litigation Landscape (continued)

- IP Ownership and Invalidity
- Waiver of Confidentiality

Impacts of AI on Obtaining Information in Discovery

- Prompts, Training Data, and AI Functionality
- Privacy Concerns
- Privilege

What's Next: The Changing Regulatory Landscape

- National Context/National Policy Framework on AI
- State Laws

Questions?

Daniel Shulman
Vedder
(312)609-7530
dshulman@vedder.com

Hillard Sterling
Roetzel & Andress
(312)962-8082
hsterling@ralaw.com

Elizabeth Winkowski
Taft
(312)840-4307
ewinkowski@taftlaw.com